

Ramsey Pevsner DO, PhD

A graduate of Nova Southeastern University College of Osteopathic Medicine I completed my psychiatry residency training at Jackson Memorial Hospital/University of Miami. Prior to becoming a psychiatrist, I was a psychologist with a large practice spanning 2 counties, West Palm Beach and Stuart, FL. Currently I am President Elect of the Broward County Medical Association, serving on the Florida Medical Association's Council on Medical Education, Science and Public Health, the Broward County Physician Wellness Task Force, Florida Psychiatric Society Councilor and Co Chair of the Florida Psychiatric Society's Membership Committee. Past boards and held offices included Palm Beach County Healthy Mothers and Healthy Babies, Temple Beth El board member, past president of the Martin County Association for Retarded Citizens, President of the Palm Beach county psychological society and co-chair of the Women's Issue section of the Florida Psychological Association. Research and publications were in the areas of parent child training, biofeedback for pain tolerance, application of behavior principles for children, and lastly a poster on Completers vs Non-Completers of PTSD treatment at the American Psychiatric Association annual meeting. Currently I am in private practice in Plantation and also work part time at the Veterans Administration in the Compensation and Pension division.
